5 Imabari Towel Museum~ Shimanamikaido~ Senkoji Park (Cable Car) ~Kurashiki Bikan District ~ Okayama

Imabari Towel Museum: It's an old, authentic and imposing building looks like a European architecture hotel than a museum. When you get inside, you can find the presentation of the towels and other products is very attractive, and for those who are just looking, there's almost enough here to merit the name "museum". A room full of fun displays all made of towel-related "stuff" (cotton, etc.) Imabari is famous for one product "towel". They are so proud of their towels so they make a museum for that.

Shimanami Kaido: its several suspension bridges which cross over Seto Inner Sea and connecting Shigoku to Honshu Main Island. It's the only suspension bridge of Seto Inner Sea allow people to ride bicycle on it with special bicycle lane for safety.

Senkoji Park: Senkoji Park, commanding a sweeping view of the town, straddles the hillside area at the back of the station. Seasonal landscapes such as cherry blossoms in spring, wisteria in summer and chrysanthemums in autumn are beautiful and charm visitors. By taking Cable car to the top hill around 3 minute is the easy way to visit the Senkoji Park.

Kurashiki Bikan District: The Bikan district is a historic city. It was a thriving river port during the Edo period, a time when many distinctive white-walled, black-tiled warehouses were built to store goods. The Bikan area contains many fine examples of these 17th century wooden warehouses, along a picturesque canal surrounded by weeping willows and filled with koi carp. The locals of this part of the city have worked very hard to maintain the traditional feel of the Edo era.

6 Yakult Factory (Dec-Jul) or #Beer Factory/ *Fruit Picking (Mid Jul-Dec) ~Heimeji Castle ~ Kobe Kitano Machi

Yakult Factory: World-renowned brand. Visit and learn the production process.

#If Yakult Factory not in operation, will change to beer factory.

*Mid Jul-Dec, will change to Fruit Picking.

Himeji Castle: Top 3 castles in Japan, the main filming location of James Bond movie.

Kobe Kitano Machi: An exotic district with old western style houses - Hilly Street of Yamanote. Kitano is a town on the hills north of San-no-miya. In the late 19th century, foreigners who moved from Kobe built their houses in a western style in memory of their homes, on the high hills of Yamanote overlooking the sea.
